FAMILIES OF AMERICA, by George Sessions Perry (Whittlesey House, $3.00). Nine families of different cultural backgrounds that have been successful in identifying themselves with American life.

AMERICAN ME, by Beatrice Griffith (Houghton, Mifflin, $3.50). The story of our Mexican minority, told in its own language of poetry.

AMERICAN SPIRITUAL AUTOBIOGRAPHIES, Louis Finkelstein, ed. (Harper and Bros., $4.00). Fifteen short self-portraits of Americans of different faiths and backgrounds, all of whom have made valuable contributions to our life or thought.

PUNISHMENT WITHOUT CRIME, by S. Anshil Fineberg (Doubleday and Co. $3.50). Practical cures of the major social plague of prejudice, made into pleasant and instructive reading.

A lady in Los Angeles reported to the police in 1912 that her brooch watch had been stolen. (Remember, any of you, those watches hanging from fleur-de-lis pins?) The officer in charge asked her if she could give him the serial number, and she said she would have to look it up and call him back. On November 20, 1949, she called up. "Here's the serial number of that watch," she said. "I had it in a notebook all the time." The officer in charge on November 20, 1949, was thirty-six years old. The watch had been stolen a year before he was born.

For the "be-cheerful" department: Knopf, the publisher, recently received an order for Joan Bennett's book, HOW TO BE ATTRACTIVE, from an inmate of a Midwestern penitentiary.

This book, incidentally, came out in 1943 and still sells between 50 and 100 copies a month. It has sold, in all, about 17,000 copies, which certainly should do something for the pulchritude of a large number of American females.

What makes this knife so good?

The blade's made of a new and unusual kind of cutlery steel—"Ekco-Temp" forged stainless with toughening "vanadium" added. Then, the "hi-arc" hollow ground edge is "micro-honed." Only the leader—Ekco Flint—could promise such long lasting sharpness—and the right knife for every need. Dollar for dollar the finest knives made.

Shown is the French Cook's knife, with imported rosewood handle, $2.50. Other Ekco Flint knives from 69c. Holdster set illustrated—6 essential knives in hang-up hardwood block—$16.95. Other Flint sets from $3.50. At all better stores.

This shows how Ekco Flint Knives are "hi-Arc" hollow ground to razor sharpness.

Here are some highly readable books for these windy March evenings at home by the fire:

THE PARASITES, by Daphne du Maurier. Novel of a superartistic, temperamental English family that may well be her own. Besides being the author of Rebecca, and daughter of Gerald du Maurier, the famous actor-manager, Daphne du Maurier is Lady Browning, wife of Sir Frederick Browning, who is treasurer of Princess Elizabeth's household in Clarence House.
